How will your information be used?

The Independent Remuneration Board is the data controller of the information you provide and will ensure it is protected and used in line with the UK's data protection legislation.

Your personal data will be used to:

- Understand views and experiences of the current MSS pay and grading structure
- Understand the diversity of those we are engaging with

Comments and opinions will not be attributed to individuals, but broad themes will be reflected in the final report prepared by Beamans.

What information are we processing?

Views will be sought on how the current pay and grading framework outlined in the Determination on Members' Pay and Allowances operates and your experiences of it. Such views will be gathered and stored by Beamans, who are acting as our data processor under this contract.

We will also collect data including salary band, office base, length of service, whether you work full or part-time and equality monitoring data.

Survey responses will be stored securely and retained for no longer than necessary to enable completion and formal acceptance of the report.

You do not have to complete the survey. All questions are optional and you will not be asked to provide any accompanying information such as your name or contact details.

The survey includes free text boxes for some questions. You do not need to provide any personal data in your answers to these questions, such as your name or your contact details. If you do provide any identifying information, it will be removed before your response is analysed.

Why are we processing it?

We are collecting this data to understand views and experiences of the MSS pay and grading structure as part of the review of Member's Support Staff Pay and Grading (as outlined in the Independent Remuneration Board's strategic plan). The review will be carried out by Beamans, a recognised expert consultant on pay and grading.

Views and information gathered through the survey will inform a report to be submitted to the Remuneration Board.

Who will have access to the information?

The information provided in the survey will be held by Beamans. This raw data will not be shared with the Remuneration Board, but may be presented, in a non-identifiable way, as part of the report to the Remuneration Board.

Will the information be shared with any third parties, or publicised?

Information gathered through the survey will inform a report drafted by Beamans, to be provided to the Remuneration Board. Any contributions made as part of the review will be presented in a non-attributable way in this report. The report may be published on the Remuneration Board's website, as well as being shared with the Remuneration Board members and the Board secretariat.

Some non-attributable, non-personal and non-sensitive personal data may be shared with the Senedd Commission where issues emerge through the research that do not fall within the remit of the Remuneration Board, but are those that the Commission could take action upon or take note of.

Storage, retention and deletion

Beamans will be using Survey Monkey, which is a third-party online survey system enabling Beamans to collect and analyse survey information. The information stored by Beamans, will be stored securely on their ICT systems, with password protection where appropriate. Beamans has been awarded both ISO 27001 and Cyber Essentials Plus certification, after an assessment by an independent body.

Information will be stored for no longer than necessary to enable completion and formal acceptance of their report to the Remuneration Board, and for a period of no longer than 6 months after.

Legal basis for processing Personal Data

Data protection law sets out various legal bases which allow us to collect, hold and use your personal information. For the purpose of processing the personal data you provide, we rely on the following legal bases:

The processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest

The task is to facilitate the work of an independent body to carry out its activities connected with determining the pay and allowances for Members of the Senedd.

The scope of our activities is set out under sections 20, 22, 24, 53 and 54 of the Government of Wales Act 2006 and the National Assembly for Wales (Remuneration) Measure 2010 and relates to making decisions on pay and allowances for Members of the Senedd. We must act in an open and transparent manner.

We must consult those who are likely to be affected by our decisions, including Members of the Senedd, staff employed by Members of the Senedd (or by groups of Members of the Senedd), relevant trade unions, and such other persons as we consider appropriate.

Legal basis for processing Special Category Data

Article 9(1) GDPR defines special category personal data as including personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade-union membership, and the processing of genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation.

We anticipate that we will process certain special categories of personal data, particularly those relating to equality and diversity in order to analyse responses from an equalities perspective.

Special category data will be processed on the basis that it is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest (as provided for by Article 9(2)(g) of the GDPR, read in conjunction with paragraph 6 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018).

Requests for information made to the Remuneration Board

In the event of a request for information being made under access to information legislation, it may be necessary to disclose all or part of the information that you provide. We will only do this if we are required to do so by law.

Your rights

As a data subject, you have a number of rights. The rights which apply depend on the legal bases we are relying on to use your personal information. Those rights will not apply in all instances, and we will confirm whether or not that is the case when you make a request.

The rights include the right to request access to your own personal information, sometimes called a 'subject access request'.

Additionally, you have the right to request from us:

- that any inaccurate information we hold about you is corrected (please note that you are required to keep us up to date with any changes to your personal information);
- that information about you is deleted (in certain circumstances);
- that we stop using your personal information for certain purposes or in certain circumstances; and
- that your information is provided to you or a third party in a portable format (again, in certain circumstances).

If you would like to engage any of the rights that you have under data protection legislation, ask a question or make a complaint about how your information is used; please contact our Data Protection Officer.

Making a complaint

You can complain to the Data Protection Officer if you are unhappy with how we have used your data. Contact details can be found above. If, following a complaint, you remain dissatisfied with our response, you can also complain to the ICO.
